

Stanford Faculty Development Series

for Assistant Professors

PROGRAM OVERVIEW:

This program is offered by Clinical Professor of Medicine Alina Popa, M.D. who is one of 221 certified clinical teaching seminar facilitators around the world. The facilitator-training program offers career development opportunities for individual faculty participants, and simultaneously provides a mechanism for institutional improvement.

Curriculum

The clinical teaching curriculum covers seven educational categories. The seminars consist of didactic presentations, group discussions, role-play exercises, video vignette review, and personal and institutional goal setting. During a follow-up session, participants are encouraged to develop a set of recommendations for improving their institution's environment for clinical teaching.

1. Learning climate
2. Control of session
3. Communication of goals
4. Promotion of understanding & retention
5. Evaluation
6. Feedback
7. Promotion of self-directed learning

If you would like more information about this series, please email aa@medsch.ucr.edu.